Questions 16–20

Label the map below.

Write the correct letter, A–H, next to Questions 16–20.

Farley House

Ⓖ 16 Farm shop

Ⓒ 17 Disabled entry

Ⓑ 18 Adventure playground

Ⓓ 19 Kitchen gardens

Ⓐ 20 The Temple of the Four Winds

16. You can see the car park at the bottom of the map. There's an excellent farm shop in the grounds where our visitors can buy local produce – it's in the old stables, which is the first building you come to. They're built round a courtyard, and the shop's in the far corner on the left. There's also a small café on the right as you go in.

17. I know that one or two of our visitors may not be all that mobile.
The main entrance to the house has a lot of steps so you might want to use the disabled entry.
This is on the far side of the house from the car park.

18. Children will probably be most interested in the adventure playground.
That's at the northern end of the larger lake, in a bend on the path that leads to the lake. There's lots for children to do there.

19. There are a number of lovely gardens near the house. The kitchen gardens are rectangular and surrounded by a wall.
They're to the north-east of the house, quite near the smaller lake.
They're still in use and have a great collection of fruit and vegetables.

20. The Temple of the Four Winds is a bit more of a walk – but it's worth it.
Take the path from the car park and go past the western sides of the stables and the house.
Then when the path forks, take the right-hand path. Go up there with the woods on your left and the temple is right at the end.

Questions 25–30

Choose SIX answers from the box and write the correct letter, A–H, next to Questions 25–30.

Opinions

A	This is only relevant to young people.	student / children / 25 ↓
B	This may have disappointing results.	bad / not good / negative
C	This already seems to be widespread.	popular / 人多
D	Retailers should do more to encourage this.	support
E	More financial support is needed for this.
F	Most people know little about this.	less / not know / not aware
G	There should be stricter regulations about this.	government / official 规章制度 guideline 指导方针
H	This could be dangerous.	in danger / risk / poison / poisonous

	Food trends
Ⓓ 25	Use of local products	25. Oh – things like more focus on local products? That seems so obvious, but the shops are still full of imported foods. Yes, they need to be more proactive to address that. And somehow motivate consumers to change, yes.
Ⓖ 26	Reduction in unnecessary packaging	.....
Ⓒ 27	Gluten-free and lactose-free food 面筋；麸质 乳糖	.....
Ⓑ 28	Use of branded products related to celebrity chefs	.....
Ⓕ 29	Development of 'ghost kitchens' for takeaway food n. 外卖/打包带走	.....
Ⓗ 30	Use of mushrooms for common health concerns	.....

26. One thing everyone's aware of is the need for a reduction in unnecessary packaging – but just about everything you buy in supermarkets is still covered in plastic. The government needs to do something about it. Absolutely. It's got to change.

27.Do you think there'll be more interest in gluten- and lactose-free food? For people with allergies or food intolerances? I don't know. Lots of people I know have been buying that type of food for years now. Yes, even if they haven't been diagnosed with an allergy. That's right.

28. One thing I've noticed is the number of branded products related to celebrity chefs – people watch them cooking on TV and then buy things like spice mixes or frozen foods with the chef's name on . . . I bought something like that once, but I won't again. Yeah – I bought a ready-made spice mix for chicken which was supposed to be used by a chef I'd seen on television, and it didn't actually taste of anything.

29. Mm. Did the article mention "ghost kitchens"used to produce takeaway food? No. What are they? Well, they might have the name of a restaurant, but actually they're a cooking facility just for delivery meals – the public don't ever go there. But people aren't aware of that – it's all kept very quiet. So people don't realize the food's not actually from the restaurant? Right.

30. Did you know more and more people are using all sorts of different mushrooms now, to treat different health concerns? Things like heart problems? Hmm. They might be taking a big risk there. Yes, it's hard to know which varieties are safe to eat. Anyway maybe now . . .
